Dining and Shopping at the Denver Art Museum

Several dining and shopping options are available at the Denver Art Museum (DAM) complex. Visitors' choices range from a leisurely and elegant meal at the acclaimed Palettes Restaurant, lighter fare at Mad Greens Inspired Eats or a convenient cup of fine coffee at the museum's café. The Museum Shop in the Hamilton Building and a satellite shop in the North Building offer visitors an array of new items from which to choose, including a number of collection-related gifts and products.

Palettes

Palettes, located in the North Building, is part of the Denver-based Kevin Taylor Restaurant Group. The restaurant seats 150–175 diners and includes a special events room for 70–80 guests. With lunch and dinner items priced between $9 and $25, the menu is representative of what Taylor does best—fabulous food with fresh ingredient-driven flavors from around the globe, a perfect complement to the museum's world-class art collection. Sure to be favorites are the Colorado striped bass and Taylor's award-winning smoked sweet corn soup with guacamole and barbequed shrimp.

Hours:	Tuesday–Thursday	11 a.m.–3 p.m.
	Friday	11 a.m.–8 p.m.
	Saturday & Sunday	10 a.m.–3 p.m.
	Closed Monday

For reservations, visit www.ktrg.net or call 303-534-1455.

Mad Greens Inspired Eats

Mad Greens is located across from the Hamilton Building on the first floor of the Museum Residences Building that wraps the Cultural Center Parking Garage. This family-friendly alternative features Mad-designed salads, build-your-own-salads, panini, soup, assorted desserts and a special kids' menu (with such favorites as mac and cheese, PB&J and grilled cheese). Diners can select their lettuce, ingredients ranging from apples to water chestnuts, add-ins such as citrus chicken, tofu or smoked salmon and dressing to create their perfect salad.

Mad Beans and Wine Cafe

The Mad Beans and Wine Cafe is located on Martin Plaza, directly across from the museum's main entrance. It features Illy brand coffee, tea, pastries, wine, spirits, cocktails, cheese and small plates. The cafe aims to offer friendly service, convenience and speed in a comfortable atmosphere and a more flexible and usable space for visitors to conduct events, meetings etc.

Mad Greens Hours:	Monday–Thursday	10 a.m.–6 p.m.

Shopping Options

Both the satellite shop in the North Building and the 5,600-square-foot Museum Shop in the Hamilton Building emphasize high design and feature an extensive array of custom products inspired by art from the museum’s world-class collection, temporary exhibitions and Libeskind’s innovative architecture. The Museum Shop features high-end design details including a fully-lit LED wall for larger vases and art objects, a kids’ corner, a book nook, an area for art and design-focused periodicals and a larger jewelry display that includes an expanded selection of unique pieces from local and national designers. The Museum Shop also offers original glass art.
